JUNIOR EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

Cronenwett, Fireoved, Fackler, Bourgeois, Lindenberg, Berry, Heck, Karr, Herlihy, Gump, Hawk.

Crepe paper, scissors, glue, paint, flowers, programs, punch, and cake—Look under the above conglomeration around Prom time, the Junior Executive Committee will emerge. Planning for the fifteenth of May, not only consumes all their spare time, but also nearly all of the class's hard-earned bankroll.

The selling of basketball programs was the ways and means for this revenue. Game nights found juniors gulping their food in order to arrive before the fans, yet thirty-two class members responded to the salesman call.

Lots of hard work on the Junior Dance by the chairmen, Bunny Hawk, Sara Zebold, and Lizzy Karr was in vain, for it was postponed by the heaviest snowfall of the year.

The '49 president, Bill Herlihy, was assisted by the vice president, Bill Berry, and the secretary-treasurer, Lou Ellen Fireoved.

Superintendent Byron Carmean

Principal J. E. McCullough

Clerk of Board of Education
Mrs. John Hursh

Secretary
Miss Mary Frangella

This June ends Mr. Carmean's fourth year of capable service; two as principal, and the rest in his present capacity, while Mr. McCullough efficiently assumes the duties of principal. Mary's official title is secretary but her willingness to help includes everything from lost articles to opening seventh graders' locks. As clerk of the board and secretary to Mr. Carmean Betty still finds time to handle student supplies.

The management of teacher personnel, upkeep of the building and grounds, in fact the entire operation of the schools are only a few of the responsibilities of the Board of Education. Mr. Anderson, board president, has served for four years, Mr. Bricker for six, Mr. Curry for four, Mr. Love for two, and Dr. Dowds has been a loyal member for over twenty years. Mr. Carmean and Mrs. Hursh also serve as members.

Come back to school during vacation or any evening and whom do you find? That's right—the school custodians. In their dictionary "vacation" means "reconditioning the building," "snow" means "shoveling," and "grass" stands for "mowing." (But everyone agrees that they do it exceptionally well.) Mr. Brissel, head custodian, and truant officer has served Shelby for twenty-nine years, Mr. Fair for nineteen, and Mr. Anderson five.

ACTIVITIES

Student Council

FIRST ROW: Alfrey, Sipes, Hodges, D. Heck, K. Payne, Herlihy, Tarvin, Fendrick, Knapp.
SECOND ROW: McHugh, Dubuc, Coleman, Blosser, E. Heck, West, Moore, M. Payne, Smith, Cooper, Dell.
THIRD ROW: Wilson, Fackler, Monn, Onie, Dowds, Coffey, Hassler, Arnold, Mrs. Yetzer.

Under the guidance of Mrs. Yetzer, the 1947-48 Student Council made the seventh school year since it founding, one of the best for both the Council and students.

Besides the projects of selling football programs, advertising for them, sponsoring auditorium programs, and sending flowers at the time of bereavement, the Council found time to add a few more.

Since the group has become a member of the National Organization of Student Councils, they felt it was necessary to draw up a constitution. This was very efficiently done by a committee under the leadership of Norma Dell.

This year the meetings were called by Jack Coffey, the president, during school time, which proved to be much more satisfactory than the previous method. Other officers were: Red Fackler, vice president; Marcia Payne, secretary; and Mary Ellen West, treasurer.

Vice President Red Fackler presides over meeting as Secretary Marcia Payne takes the minutes.

El Circulo Español

FIRST ROW: McCombs, Miss Soldner, Moore, Garvin, Jones, Albert, Oertle, Arnold, Riley, Lindenberg, Karr, Lux.
SECOND ROW: West, Dell, Haun, Willet, Otto, Stoffer, Crum, Gallentine, Striker, Seif, LaBonte, Gump.
THIRD ROW: Hawk, Anderson, Smith, Coffey, Long, Hildebrant, Connelly, Steele, McKenzie, Evans, Tucker.

"Brand this one, and then put her in the saw mill!" whispered the muffled voice of a senior torturer amid the terrifying screams of twenty-nine victims, one fateful night in October. Following the bloodchilling initiation, a social meeting was held at the Girl Scout House where the oath of membership was taken. Forty-one full-fledged members departed an hour later.

The most outstanding event on the Spanish Club calendar was the sponsoring of a gala Christmas formal, the first of its kind in the history of Shelby High. The "Snow Ball" featured the orchestra of Speros Karas, in a beautiful setting of stars, snowflakes, pine bows, and a sparkling Christmas tree.

Another social event was the annual spring picnic which was held at Olivesburg again this year.

Freshman Speech Club

FIRST ROW: Cain, Terman, Barbour, Blosser, Cline, Weber, Boreman, Heck, Cooper, Price.
SECOND ROW: Quiggle, Sheridan, Stoffer, Crain, Poland, Anderson, Lay, Workman, Williamson, Whisler, Tucker, Irey.
THIRD ROW: Carmean, Foltz, Bricker, Henson, Randall, Fee, Lewis, Hawk, Gump, Blosser, Cline, Barkdull, Sweet, Tullis.

First prize for the newest organization goes this year to the recently created Freshman Speech Club. For some time now the need for such an organization has been apparent, since the members from the upper three grades alone have to stand or occupy the window sills in the music room in order for all members to get inside.

The meetings included various skits, discussions, and readings, in which Gerald Fee and Marlin Cole, as well as many others, were at their best.

The officers voted for at the first meeting were Jim Barkdull, Susan Whisler, Charles Blosser, and Anna Lee Irey as president, vice president, secretary, and treasurer respectively.

Many of these junior thespians, debaters, and public speakers have become so interested in the various phases of dramatic work that they are planning to take the course in speech next year, which meets daily under the direction of Miss Kellermeyer.

This year the class consisted largely of sophomores, and had one of the most diversified programs that could be found in any classroom during any period of the day. Here a person has great freedom to express his or her ideas on current affairs and other debatable issues, as well as in discussions in which all participate. "Miss K", can I record my voice, after Jim has finished?" could be heard coming from room 312 around the first days of spring, since every student had a chance to hear how he sounded on a disc.

Do you know what it means to "table" a discussion or "move" the previous question? Ask any member of the speech class and they will enlighten you since they spent quite a bit of time on studying the correct methods of parliamentary procedure.

Other class activities included make-up demonstrations by Miss K., skits and readings, practice in reading poetry, character studies, and many others.

Continue the good work, Freshman Speech Club, and the speech class. The entire school is hoping that you will make Shelby's speech department even more outstanding in the years to come!

Speech Club

FIRST ROW: Smith, Pittenger, Strohminger, Berrier, Tarvin, Fackler, Cale, Cocper, Leverett, Perman, Pitney, Pugh.
SECOND ROW: Payne, Dunathan, Bockmyer, Rapp, Garvin, Bourgeois, Jewell, Hurl, McCombs, Heck, Hassler, Dennis, Coffey, Crum.
THIRD ROW: Beckley, Daugherty, Long, Peyssard, Clark, Arnold, Edward, Yetzer, Bodkin, Dye, Brown, Riley, Dubuc, Pry, Frangella, Hursh, Hollenbaugh, Moll.
FOURTH ROW: Henson, Graham, Aumend, Rogers, Ruhl, Kime, Fireoved, Smith, Dell, Sprague, Gallentine, Striker, Seif, Thompson, Coughlin, Richards.

Speech Club this year started off with a bang when Rodney Hurl, president, knocked his gavel on the rickety music stand in room 308. With the coming of Miss Kellermeyer (Miss K. for short) many new practices were started, not the least of which was executive meetings with her before most of the regularly scheduled meetings, in order to plan the agenda. One of the most successful dances of the year, a square dance featuring Howard Kemp and his Buckeye Playboys, was sponsored by the Speech Club on November 22. The program for the Christmas meeting consisted of readings by Alan Connelly and JoAnn Henson, with group singing of favorite carols.

Following vacation, work was begun on "The Man Who Came to Dinner", which was presented on February fifth and sixth. John Benson Clark, Jr. played the lead with an excellent supporting cast, including Jo Ann McCombs, Alan Connelly, Hugh Hildebrant, Joyce Seif, Joyce Crum, Rodney Beckley, David Tarvin, Ann Peyssard, Hal Light, Glen Pittenger, Jim Hassler, Frank Long, and JoAnn Henson. Backstage helpers received a workout making the elaborate scenery. The prize, however, goes to the fascinating mummy cast which appeared in Act III. A tidy and well-deserved profit was cleared by the performance, part of which was used to purchase stage equipment, a traditional policy of the group.

The officers of the club are president, Rodney Hurl; vice-president, Jo Ann McCombs; secretary, Shirley Bourgeois; treasurer, David Heck; and historian, Beverly Jewell. The year ended with plans for joining the National Thespian Society, in which it will be necessary to earn membership by laboriously acquiring points from various activities in speech work. It is thought that this will create a more active interest in the student body, including the younger students.

Boys' and Girls' State

FIRST ROW: Hildebrant, Anderson, Sampsel.
SECOND ROW: Clark, Connelly, Hassler.

Buckeye Boys' and Girls' States are Ohio's proud share in the National American Legion's Boys' and Girls' State program. It is a school in which selected future citizens of Ohio have an opportunity to learn, in a few days, the ideals, objectives, and mechanics of self-government in a democracy.

Five Shelby Seniors attended Boys' State at Ohio Wesleyan's campus last June, and the first Girls' State at Capitol University was attended by Julie Anderson.

Boys' and Girls' States are designed to inculcate a sense of individual obligation to community, state, and nation; to inspire good American citizenship through an accurate knowledge of the practical mechanics of government—of what it is composed, how it is organized, and how laws are conceived and enforced.

The Boys' Staters' first experience was that of becoming affiliated with either the Nationalist or Federalist party, and the Girls' with the Idealists or Realists. These party titles were arbitrarily selected by reason of their traditional American background, but have no significance whatsoever with reference to the major political parties which function within the State of Ohio and throughout the United States. However, the Staters have observed that each party, after careful thought and debate, adopted a so-called "platform", which was merely a declaration of the policies and ideals which that particular party aimed to accomplish.

Elections were held in the city areas on the third day and the winning governor was inaugurated. Justice Zimmerman of the Ohio State Supreme Court administered the oath to the governor and the Supreme Court.

Shelby High School was well represented at Boys' and Girls' State by a county commissioner, a Supreme Court Judge, a city health commissioner, a city auditor, and a city councilman.

Future Homemakers of America

FIRST ROW: Phelps, Jones, Riley, Latimer, McKenzie, Kidwell, Coughlin, Dye, French.
SECOND ROW: Miss Handley, Thompson, Hursh, Sheridan, Davis, Hallman, Hohler, Durnwald, Friebel, Gallentine, Striker, Riley, Rapp, Brown, Pry.

"Backwards" was the perfect description of the Future Homemakers of America, the night of their first social meeting, a party in which everything was worn and done in reverse.

A Christmas party proved to be both enjoyable and helpful when the F.H.A.'ers packed boxes for the young people of Europe. Many of the girls received letters of gratitude from the boys and girls who received the gifts.

The meetings also included talks on health and careers. A very educational talk on physical hygiene was given to the club by Mrs. Charles Williams. At another meeting Betty Newton presented them with career records which told of some of the many fields in which girls interested in Home Economics could excel.

One joyful diversion was a taffy pull. Everyone's taffy was too tough to pull, but that useful kitchen implement, the hammer, solved the problem.

At a lab gathering in which curtains were made for the laboratory, the girls presented a gift to their club mother who was planning to enter the holy state of matrimony. Along with Easter came the making of Easter favors for the hospital and the coloring of eggs.

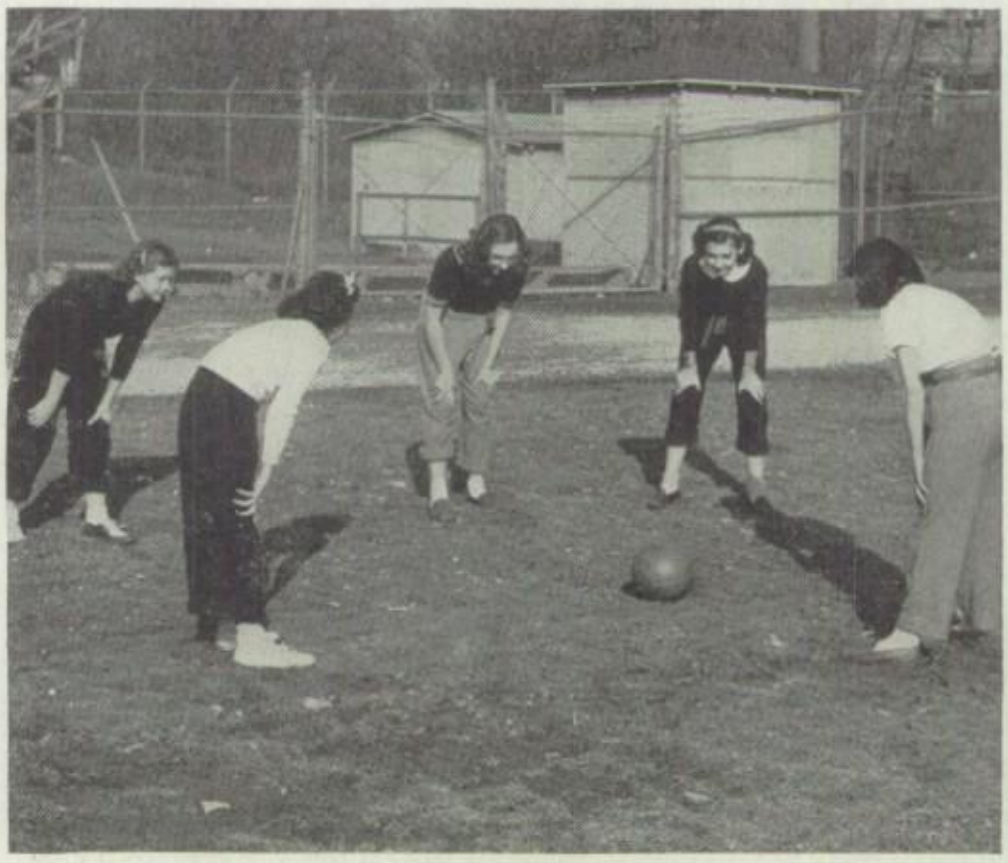
That long awaited day of their banquet, April 24th, finally arrived a little over three weeks after April Fool's Day. Each girl was permitted to bring one guest (gentlemen included); the hostesses prepared and served the dinner themselves. Mrs. Price, the state advisor, was present as the guest speaker.

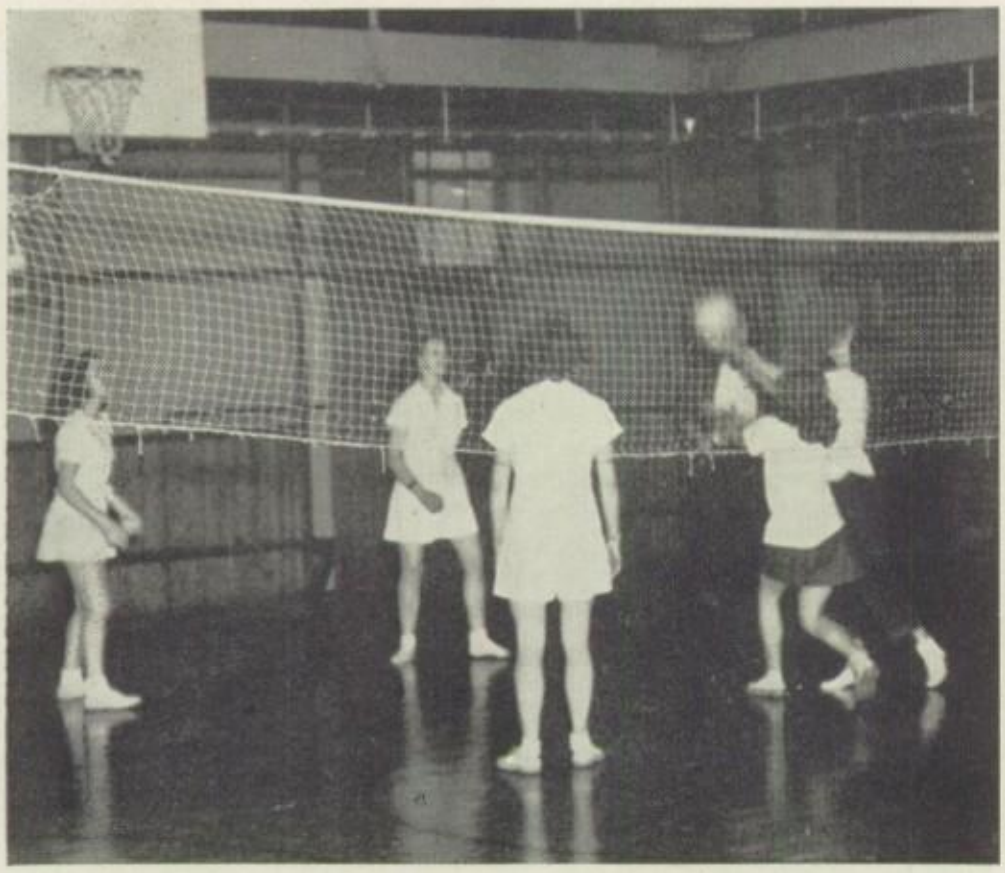
The year closed with the annual picnic, when school books were put away and picnic baskets were packed—and off to the park for a day of fun and laughs.

FIRST ROW: Waines, Dick, Cain, Call, Scott, Seltzer, Sargent, Cox, Fendrick, Hall, Stump, Apger, Melick, Wingart, Workman Miss Humm.
SECOND ROW: Phillips, Wolford, Stover, Workman, A. Smith, Sturts, Hunter, M. Smith, Whitney, Gross, Hoskins, Prewett, Bisel.
THIRD ROW: Crawford, Fought, Leola Scheerer, Lois Scheerer, Dubuc, Irey, Jackson, Strohminger, Caudill, Brinkerhoff, Moon, J. Smith.

7th and 8th G. A. A.

This year's activities commenced with a pot-luck dinner in the cafeteria, followed by games in the gym with group singing, in which Jake and Mr. Wilkins (masculine party crashers) could not participate. The seventh grade initiations produced a few wet seats, upset stomachs, messy skin and clothes, but also good will. The year's officers are: president, Bunny Workman; vice president, Marilyn Cox; secretary, Sandra Jones; treasurer, Ann Fendrick. Volleyball, basketball, bowling and spring softball are included on the agenda. Margaret Jackson took bowling honors with the high score of 135. In all other sports the eighth grade took home the banners.





After secretary Marcia Payne called the roll of eighty members, a good part of every meeting had passed. This record breaking membership doubled the work of Shirley Willet, treasurer and also point chairmen Eileen Workman, Pat Bell, Lizzy Karr and Jo Ann McCombs. During the year president Bonnie Bell received a number of invitations for out-of-town volleyball games and playdays where Shelby's G.A.A. was not often on the defeated side. Recognition Day brought half of the members to the stage for letters, pins, and medals. These awards were well deserved by the steady members who participated and officiated in softball, bowling, volleyball, basketball, and ping pong.

The many important services rendered by Miss Kuhn's five student assistants include repair work on books and magazines, besides preparing new material for use, taking attendance, and helping with circulation and displays. Following its daily use by three hundred or more students, the library is put back in order by Raymond Bowlby at the end of each sixth period. The special project which the library staff undertook this year was the sponsoring of rummage sales for the benefit of the library.

Total circulation of the library since last September has mounted to approximately ten thousand books, magazines, pamphlets, and pictures; all of which have been borrowed from the library for various lengths of time. Both Miss Kuhn and her staff deserve praise for their worthy efforts in making this possible.

The stage crew (Shelby High School's W.P.A.) has Bill Hassler as capable stage manager. It seems as if a lot of boys thought, "That's one way to get out of class", since at the beginning of the year Mr. McCullough was swamped with applicants. But these boys were selected on the basis of scholarship and responsibility. Unlike the W.P.A. they really work for their time out of classes. This labor includes everything from providing water for speakers to setting up heavy equipment. The most hated job seemed to be the folding of the gray curtains, as they just do not fit in the gym closet. At the close of the season, the boys were treated to a baseball excursion in Cleveland.

The sextet harmonizes on a Christmas carol.

Shelby High's Senior Choir, now under the direction of Mr. Paul Braden, gave its first performance on Armistice Day, including various religious and patriotic songs.

With the arrival of Christmas, the choir presented its annual Christmas program, in which the seventh and eighth grade students took the audience to a Spanish Christmas, after which the Girls' Glee Club sang a few selections. Posing as Christmas carolers, in front of a snowy living room window, the choir continued with carols old and new.

The sixty voices blended one afternoon in collaboration with the band, as well as in their own formal Spring Concert in March.

Other activities included being host to the 1948 Choir Festival, and entering the sextet and soloists in the music contest in Elyria.

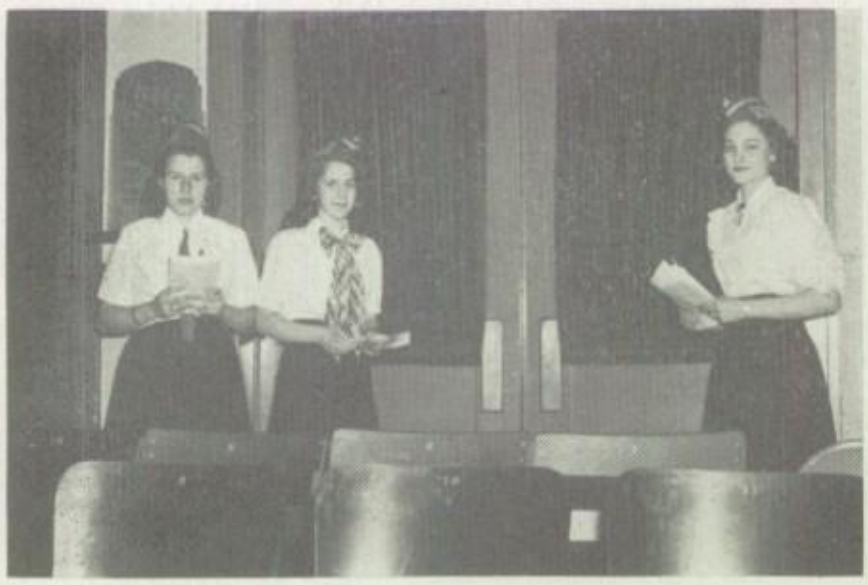
Ushers

FIRST ROW: Amert, Hopton, Miss Mueller, Cooper, Richards, Stoffer.
SECOND ROW: Leonhardt, Bricker, Whisler, Dell, Crain, Weiser, Ruhl, French, Riley.



The Ushers are the official hostesses for the programs given at the high school, either by the school or by outside groups of the community. Their job is to see that the people attending entertainments in the school auditorium are made comfortable. It is probably not known by many people that the ushers have to be on the job for about twenty programs a year; thus each girl serves approximately eighty times during her ushering career.

The ushers annually assist with such programs as the Junior and Senior Class plays, Speech Club productions, The Cooperative Club Collins' series, Commencement and Baccalaureate services, outside speakers who come to Shelby, the May-Day programs of Central School, and the St. Patrick's Day program of St. Mary's School.

Senior Stand

Friday evening business is rushing as usual.

What's a football game without hot dogs and pop corn to munch while the Whippets are in a huddle? Ably supervised by Miss Snyder and Miss Stroup, the seniors did a fine job of keeping hundreds of famished football fans supplied with hot dogs, pop corn, coke, coffee, and candy bars, and football pencils (not to be eaten) during the five home games.

Any school day around noon a couple senior girls could be found squeezed into the little red "defense stamp" booth, diligently trading candy bars and pencils for shiny (or any kind of) nickels. Pound boxes of delicious chocolates, shaped in the traditional heart and individually gift wrapped were sold for Valentine's Day. Also "lettuce" was raised by selling chocolate-covered cherries.

What would the faculty, students, and towns-people have done without those energetic seniors who gave up their lunch hours, and seeing the games to work for the class (And what would the Scarlet S have done without the money that was raised?)

The Shelby Whippets, for the second year under the head coach Al Fendrick, entered into a realm of hard-hitting candidates for high position in the Northern Ohio League. Injuries of key backfield men before and immediately after the first game put Shelby at a disadvantage, while the addition to the injury list of several experienced line men was felt keenly.

The entire season was spent under the excellent direction of line coaches Swackhamer and Wilkins, while Coach Fendrick, and ever-present and extremely helpful Paul Curry, kept the backs stepping and developing. Coaches Yohn and Williams took the never ending responsibility of Reserve and Junior High drilling to come out on top in the training of future varsity material. "Coach" Plocher and outside help also added to make a complex football program.

Experience was a lacking factor in this year's varsity, and although on the short end of many scores, the Whippets lived up to their reputation of being a powerful, hard driving, well conditioned team. Shelby had the record of being one of the more rugged defensive teams in the Northern Ohio standings, making up in defense many times what was lost by a hesitant offense.

In league honors, Jake Gates and Jack Coffey placed on the second team, while Captain Grant Dowds and Clyde Bell, a junior, were named on honorable mention.

The grid aggregation of 1948 will long be remembered by its class and the many loyal, football minded supporters of Shelby High.

Basketball Varsity

FIRST ROW: Gates, Utz, Cronenwett, Onie, Fackler.
SECOND ROW: Williams, Souslin, Becker, Lybarger, Clark, Monn, Smith.

With graduation taking away four of last year's five first-string cagers, Shelby boasted the youngest high school basketball team in the league. The only first team man back this year was Captain Jake Gates who was looked to not only for his scoring ability, but his excellent ball handling which ranked him among the better basketball players ever coming from Shelby High.

The first practice session starting in November, Coach Charles Williams had the difficult task of selecting a team from the young contestants. Gates and Clark were placed as guards, with Utz and Onie holding down the forward positions. Cronenwett was cast at center, while Dick Becker and "Red" Fackler, running close and ready at any time, provided much needed substitution. Fackler was lost to the team early in the season due to a knee injury received in football. The ability of Becker to fill positions was a continual asset to Shelby.

Inexperience also reigned in the Shelby cage team. With Onie and Utz, sophomores; Clark and Cronenwett, juniors; Gates and Becker, seniors; the Shelby quintet in coming time should prove worthy of high honors. This Shelby team swept quite a path down the league set up, placing a tie for third place with Norwalk High School.

Shelby drew Willard for the tournament and defeating them, moved on to match a strong Mansfield Madison team which proved too much.

Coach Williams gained the invaluable factor of experience this year and although the absence of Gates and Becker will be hard to fill, there should be high hopes for a successful season next year.

The "S" Club, which consists of varsity letter winners, has been more active the past several years than it has been in its history. Advised by Coach Bill Wilkins, the club has spent most of its time in the furthering of athletics to younger students, and building toward making a better athletic department. In continuing its activities the "S" Club hopes to be an inspiration for on-coming letter winners, and a tradition at Shelby High.

A Comedy of Errors

Act I

SCENE I The play opens in a business-like mood as books are issued and first assignments are handed in (?). Jack Rank entertains us with a one-man interpretation of "The Merchant of Venice"; the Farm Bureau demonstrates how quickly a car can be halted (Miss Stroup takes first prize at this one); the Fisher Body Corporation visits us; and Robert T. Edgar explains the Mt. Palomar telescope. October is ushered out with a Halloween Dance, sponsored by the seniors.

SCENE II The school goes to the junior play, "Spring Green"; the Deep River Quartette sings; Bings sponsors a banquet for the football team, and everyone recuperates over Thanksgiving vacation. Back to school again, the football team is honored at recognition night; the combined choirs hold a Christmas concert; the student body views the Bill of Rights movie; and the curtain falls as school is dismissed on the 19th for Christmas vacation.

Act II

SCENE I Christmas vacation brings the enjoyment of old alumni home from college, and the big event of the year, the "Snow Ball", is sponsored by the Spanish Club. New Years comes in with many parties and with the reopening of school.

SCENE II The second scene opens with the Speech Club play, "The Man Who Came To Dinner", which is given the fourth and fifth of February.

Along with the trials and tribulations of this, work is heightened by the senior scholarship tests, a headache for all but well worth the trouble. The first driving class has graduation assembly; and Friday afternoon, March 19, brings the annual choir concert which is enjoyed by all attending.

Act III

SCENE I The top four grades take Ohio State scholarship tests. High three in each subject travel to Wooster College and take the district tests. (Some even place in the state contest.)

Senior play "And Came the Spring" thrills responding audience on May 5th and 6th, and spring football practice commences. Tense and anxious moments are spent in preparation for the Junior-Senior Prom. The big night arrives and the swish of taffeta blends with the dreamy music filling the beautifully decorated gym.

SCENE II This is the climax—A combination of sadness and gladness, cheers and tears. On May 23rd the seniors are solemn as they slowly enter Baccalaureate Service. The next few days more tears are shed—"exams". On May 25th Commencement Program brings caps and gowns and diplomas—and on May 29th the seniors entertain the juniors at their last get-together, the Senior Party. Finally the last day of school arrives; the freshmen, sophomores, and juniors to return for a command performance next year—the seniors to be spectators.

FOR MANY graduates it means "School's Out" while others will extend their educational program in varied directions. And as these young men and women find a place in this great business world we wish them success. No matter where they are they will, through observation, be reminded quite frequently of one of their home-town industries—the Shelby Salesbook Plant—which provides business everywhere with many essential printed forms and control procedures.
